The greatest athletic fournament ever held in merica takes place this afternoon at Manhattan Field. In past years the A. A. U. championships have attracted widespread attention, but to-day's meeting promises to dwarf all its predecessors, Numerically the entries look more like those of a big handlesp tournament, in which the novice and the champion are supposed to have equal chances, and when it is conidered that every man entered for to-day has a fair chance of scoring from the scratch mark,

The amateur athletic community all over the country is in a ferment, which will not subside posed of. This time it is not so much a question of picking the champions as the wiping out of records, and the athlete who wins a championship without disturbing existing figures will be cible team on the field on Sept. 21.

The advance sale of tickets has been most gratifying to Secretary James E. Sullivan and the sprints is awaited with anxiety, as the most fancied aspirants are liable to come together in the trials. Of course it will then be a question of the survival of the fittest, but enthusiasts are hoping that Crum, Wefers, Goodwin, and Richards may be drawn in different heats.

Many experts assert that one of this quartet will take the sprint honors, but not a few indulge a sneaking fancy for the chances of Tommy Lee, the veteran champion who invariably discounts his private form when he starts for keeps. Lee has not been going well in practice, but he will still have a confident following, while ex-champion C. W. Stage and the young Syracuse flyer, D. E. Coville, will be by no means friendless.

Trouble in Defeating the Louisvilles,

It was an off day in the League schedule yesterday, but games were played in six of the cities. Every one of the clubs was thereby enabled to play off one or two postponed games. The New York players journeyed to Philadelthis and played off the game postponed in this citylast April. The result was never in doubt after the third inning, when the Quakers laced Dad Clarke's curves all over the lot. The Brooklyns struck a large sized snag at Washington, losing two games to the Senators. The Bostons went to Baltimore, saw and were conquered in a double header. This defeat shoves the Beaneaters back to sixth place, for the Pittsburghs defeated the Cincinnatis and the Smoky City players are now only one point behind the Brooklyns. The Chicagos found the Louisvilles easy prey, while the Clevelands gained an easy victory over the St. Louis team. Seven hundred games have been played to date by the League clubs. The results:

Philadelphia, 18; New York, 9. Washington, 4; Brooklyn, 9 (first game). Washington, S; Brooklyn, S, (second game). Baltimore, S; Boston, S (first game). Paltimore, 11; Boston, 10 (second game Pittsburgh, 4; Cincinnati, 3. Cleveland, 18; St. Louis, 7. Chicago, 15; Louisville, THE RECORD.

PHILADELPHIA, 18: NEW YORK, 9. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.-The New York team played off a postponed game with Philadelphia to-day, and lost by the score of 18 to 9. The game was one scheduled to be played in New York and postponed on account of rain. It was transferred to this city by mutual agreement, but subsequently Andrew Freedman, President of the New York Club, repudiated the agreement and persistently asserted that the game, if played at all, would have to be decided at New York.

President N. E. Young finally said that the President N. E. Young finally said that the New York Club would have to play the Philadelphias in this city or forfeit the game, besides laying themselves liable to a fine of $1,000. Freedman wired the Philadelphia management on Thursday that the team would play the game in this city. This uncertainty in connection with the context kept the attendance down to 1,817.

The game was one-sided and uninteresting, the Philadelphias batting hard, while the New York men played a loose game in the field. Clarke was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning, and German, who was substituted, did good work, but received poor support. Taylor did not exert himself after the third inning, as the Philadelphias had a winning lead. Turner took Thompson's place in right field in the eighth inning, and Madison was sent to third in the ninth. Clements, Thompson, Taylor, and Delahanty used their bats with great effect. The score:

BALTHORSE, Sept. 13.—The champions won two games from Boston to-day which were postponed in the spring series. The first contest was decided in the first inning, the home team batting buillivan for five runs. Clarkson pitched an effective game, Hoston's cuity tailies being made off an error and two bases on batis. The second game was a heart breaker, particularly active the fourth inning. It was acase of see saw until darkness put a stop to the sport, when the croad was yelling like mad and the players were trying to scrap with the unpite. Baltimore won out in the eighth inning on three singles and an error. Mc-Nation was not up to his mark four triples, three daubtes, four singles, and three hases on buils being scored against him. There was but one man out for the home team when the game was called on account of darkness in the eighth inning. Attendance, 5,500. Zha scores.

The inter-Club Bowling League of Brooklyn will probably have a meeting in a few days. There are runners of a split on the question of preventing their men from redding in outside tournaments, but nothing will be known until after the reorganization meeting. It is like by that the ridge and lyring cluss will be admitted, which will make a twelve-club league.

The effort to change the style of scoring whereby only 200 points could be made by any individual bowler did not meet with much favor. Muller of the Independent lowling 'lub has this idea of a 200-point game: Each strike to count twenty and each yac for the pina made on the first half in the frame in which the spare is made to be seited to the ten points: that is, should a hower knees down sight pins and then score a spare, eighteen points is do be reedled to him. Every frame therefore will be fluished before the player leaves the alley.

White made more points than its example, and hit his opponent frequently and hard, but owing to the latter's wind and ability to stand punishmus he was in fully as good trum at the end as White was,

have to put his best foot foremost to shake off the heel-and-toe experts who are after his laurels.

For the first time in A. A. U. history the field attractions promise to crowd the track events in popular favor. The high jump especially will be watched with breathless interest, as Champion M. F. Sweeney proposes to clear the bar at 6 feet il inches. Those who failed to see him get over 6 feet 5½ inches at Bergen Point on Labor Day may have a still greater treat in store for them, as the Xavier wonder is anxious to get as high as he can before he loses his present grand form. Even should the record withstand Sweeney's assault, the event cannot fail to arouse enthusiasm, the worst immper of the six entered having a record of 5 feet 11 inches or better. The broad jumpers are an exceptional of, and it is pretty certain that the winner will have to clear 23 feet.

The New York A. C. expects to pick the international winner out of this competition, and every man is prepared for a supreme effort. L. P. Sheldon, who created such a sensation in England last year, is handlo appead by an in jured foot, but he is quite likely to forget this in the heat of the moment. E. B. Blose, late of Harvard, is in rars trim, and under favorable conditions may reach record figures. It is quite probable that the whole lot will leave the twenty-two-foot mark astern.

That popular champlon, C. T. Bucholz of Philadelphia, will serve to focus attention on the pole vault, in which he will have to do his pretiest to dispose of Herman Thomas. N. Y. A. C., and the weight events will be signalized by the prowess of J. S. Mitchell, George R. Gray, W. O. Hickok, H. P. Crose, G. Wuttrick, and H. C. Davyle.

SHEEPSHEAD'S CLOSING DAY. The Great Eastern Handlesp and Autumn

STIERING CONTESTS LOOKED FOR The non-appearance of Requital in the Great Eastern Handicap at Sheepshead Bay will be a disappointment to a great many persons who merten's Best Athletes After National wanted to see the great colt with big weight up, The field, however, is a strong one, thirteen Honors-Every Aspirant Reyed Up for a youngsters being named to start. For many years the Great Eastern Handicap has furnished splendid sport, and many famous horses have won it. The field which will con test for the prize to-day is made up of some very high-class material, some that is only moderate, and a smattering of the unknown. Probably the most dangerous of the dark division is the Blemton Stable's chestnut colt Margrave, by the Blemton Stable's chestnut coit Margrave, by St. Blaise, out of the handsome mare Lady Margeret. This coit has a bad leg, and but for that alling member would have been a candidate for the big stakes carlier in the season. He has only sported silk once, beating a commonplace field with great case during the present meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club, He looks like a race horse of high class, and if he is he will be extremely dangerous to-day at 110 pounds. Intermission in her race on Friday will not be out of the hunt for at least a small portion of the stake. Applegate will do better than he did in the Futurity. One I Love will be the one they must all beat before they can take the money. This filly has speed, courage, and stoutness of a remarkable degree, and she is unquestionably the champion of her age and sex of the year.

The Autums Cup, at one mile and three-quarters, has not filled as it should, all of the cracks declining the issue. Redskin, Counter Tenor, and Song and Dance are well matched at the weights, and although the public would have enjoyed seeing the best of the handicap division out, still this trio should put up a red-hot fight. Counter Tenor's race in the September Makes, with 125 pounds up, was really the most brillant performance by a three-year-old at the meeting.

while ex-champion C. W. Stage and the young Syracuse flyer. D. E. Coville, will be by no means friendless.

At least four of the eight entered for the quarter-mile run are considered capable of equaling the time made by last year's winner. T. Keane of Boston. The latter has not entered to defend his title, nor is he likely to figure again in the amateur ranks. However, Boston will be capably represented by T. E. Burke, the grand runner who will carry the New York A. C. colors a week later against Fitz-Herbert, the English champion. Burke has been going great guns at Travers Island recently, and his admirers will be disappointed if he doesn't run close to the world's record of 4849 seconds.

The haif-mile run will also be an event of surpassing interest. Of course, Charley Kilpatrick is expected to retain his title, but followers of athletics confidently expect him to emphasize the performance by getting home in time. which will guarantee his victory over President Horan of Cambridge the following Saturday. The Union College flyer has had a special "prep," and his Travers Island associates think the world's record is at his mercy if he lets himself out all the way. Among his rivals there are at least three capable of covering the distance inside two minutes.

The mile run will be all the way. Among his rivals there are at least three capable of covering the distance inside two minutes.

The mile run will be all the way are not the race of his life to achieve his ambition. Champlon George Orton is considerably off color, but he has still some of his famous sprint left, and unless Waish makes the pace a cracker all the way the little Canadian may again take the coveted laurels. C. of Boston and threw in his lot with the New England delegation are ready to plank down their return tickets on Bean, although he has seceded from the Suff mising material. Mr. Bennet has six yearlings that would be hard to beat anywhere, a colt by Salvator, out of imported Oron, by Sir Bevys, being a race horse beyond a doubt. Although never pressed to the limit, he has shown three furlongs in 37% seconds with 130 pounds in the saddle. Another Salvator colt, out of Ethel, the dam of other Salvator colt, out of Ethel, the dam of Comanche, bids fair to be a greater race horse than his haif brother, whom he greatly resembles. A filly by Iroquois, out of Tomboy, by Great Tom, has size, quality, and everything else that horsemen look for. She is speedy, too, and should be a grand race mare. The filly by Sonsation, out of Magnetic, sister to Magnetizer and a host of other winners, is a young glautess. She has been highly tried, and is one of the most impressive young maidens that will be out next year. A bay colt by Falsetto, out of Illisses, by Haden Haden, second, dam Minx (Monitor's dam), is a colt of the Patrician type, short and thick, with his legs well under him, and speed written nevery line.

Of the older horses the two-year-old Marsian, by Hine Eyes, out of Missive, and therefore a brother to Roslyn, is probably the best, He worked recently five furlongs over the Gravesend course in 1.02 with 117 pounds up. Rompworked recently live furiongs over the Graves-end course in 1:32 with 117 pounds up. Romp-ing Girl, 3 years old, by Luke Blackburn, out of Tomboy, should win many races yet and then be valuable in the stud.

Mr. Bennet is selling out because his health is poor and he has been ordered to take a year's recreation.

The players met in a match for a cup at Mantielm on Thursday, and Wrenn, after taking two sets in succession, lost three straight sets and the match to the Summit crack. ENGLISH STUDENTS AHEAD.

THEY SCORE NEARLY THREE "CEN. TURIES" AT THE WICKETS.

The Bowling of the University of Pennsyle vente Eleven Hit Precly-Eighty-nine Russ Collected Before the First Wicker Falls-Capt, Mitchell Makes the Top Score for Cambridge and Oxford Promise of a Big Issing for Old Penn's Batsmen, PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.- For the first time in the history of cricket in this country a team from an American university met an English university eleven here to-day. The game was between the Cambridge and Oxford team and an eleven of the University of Pennsylvania, past and present. The match was played on the grounds of the Philadelphia Cricket at Wissahlckon, and while the crowd did not approach anything like the big attendance seen at Manheim on occasions of this sort, there were some 3,000 persons, most of whom were of the best families in Philadelphia. A splendid withet had been prepared. It was hard and fact, and, as the grass on the outfield is kept low, the balls travelled at a great rate and the big bounlaries were made easier.

It was of considerable advantage to the Englishmen to win the toss for choice of innings, and when they went to the wickets everybody expected them to run up a large score. Capt. Mitchell instructed his men to play carefully, too, and instead of the vigorous bitting seen at Staten Island the play was more like the ordinary local style, and only once in the long inning of 284 was there any fast scoring witnessed. This was when W. McG. Hemmingway was in, The little athlete, whom the Cambridge men expected would represent them against Yale in the broad jump, scored at a terrific rate, and he put on thirty-six while Mitchell was making Capt. Mitchell played very cautiously for his inning of fifty eight, and it was altogether free from the heavy hitting with which his name is ssociated. He started the batting with V. T. Hill as a partner. The rair played so well that eighty-nine runs were scored before Hill was caught at point for forty-six. Hill's offside play was a treat to witness. his cutting being hard, clean, and well placed, while his drivealong the ground were very brilliant. Mitchell's wicket did not fall until Hemmingway had been disposed of, and he was then well caught at mid-off by W. Brockie, who all through the game did magnificent work in the field. R. A. Studd scored his eighteen by hard back cuts and off driving, while F. A. Phillips and C.

E. M. Wilson each contributed thirty-one by good play before they were dismissed. Milligan gave little trouble to the bowlers, and the first ball sent Lowe's stumps down. The fielders had plenty of work to do, however, before the inting ended. H. A. Arkwright and J. C. Hardey were the batamen, and before the former was caught at mid-wicket twenty-four runs had seen added to the total, the inning yielding 284. As the time was late for a fresh inning, tapt, Brockie decided to reserve his best batsmen to to-morrow, and in company with H. C. Thayer he began the run-getting for Old Penn. Thayer very foolishly ran his captain out after three runs had been scored, while neither E. W. nor S. Clark was troublesome to the bowlers. Thayer also lost his wicket before the afternoon's entertainment ended. When G. S. Patnoon's entertainment ended. When G. S. Patterson and C. Coates became associated four wickets were down for twenty-four. This pair, however, put an effectual stop to the rot, and they managed to play out time, compelling a change in the bowling. Pennsylvania has every prospect of making a good score to-morrow.

Although the Englishmen have the advantage of a good first inning score, the representatives of the red and blue mean to make a good fight to get within halling distance, and they do not expect the patience of the Englishmen to hold out against their bowling in the second inning. The score:
